

Family / Relationship Property Lawyer

We're looking for an experienced senior family lawyer to join our team.

The focus of our family team is to work with new and existing clients particularly in the areas of relationship property, contracting out agreements and asset protection planning, protection of personal property, separation, parenting and contact. We do not generally offer legal aid services.

Our significant client base provides a solid foundation of family law work and we are looking for someone who is keen to actively promote our family law services. We work primarily with private clients, small to medium sized businesses and trusts.

An opportunity exists for you to join our team at a senior level, be involved in developing further and promoting our family law services and over time potentially take a lead role in our team. We prefer applicants to have at least 6 years current practical experience and be able to demonstrate a strong commitment to family law and legal practice. You'll need to be a team player, enthusiastic, dependable and technically competent, with an ability to work autonomously on files and with clients.

Corcoran French is a reputable mid-size law firm with offices in Christchurch and Kaiapoi. The role involves working between the two offices.

We are well regarded for the quality of services we deliver to our clients and we have expertise across a broad range of practice areas. We require a commitment to excellence and attention to detail. We expect honesty, integrity and high standards. In return we provide great working conditions, a supportive environment, up to date technology and a great opportunity for career progression. We have a friendly and supportive culture.

If you wish to apply please send your application and CV to our General Manager, Steven Duxfield or contact him for further information. All applications will be acknowledged and treated confidentially.
